

December 8, 2025

What Have We Learned About Effective Pandemic Response?

This presentation will address major lessons from the COVID-19 Pandemic, from early recognition and response through to public health measures, vaccines and therapeutics. We will pay particular attention to learning about the impact of cultural and societal factors on effective response.

Objectives:

- Understand how lessons from the last pandemic could be applied to a future one.
- Understand the importance of cultural and societal context in an effective response, and consider actions that could make us less vulnerable in the future.

Presenter

David Patrick

Professor, UBC School of Population and Public Health
Medical Epidemiologist, BC Centre for Disease Control

C2E2 Spotlight is held monthly on Mondays from 12:00 pm to 1:00 pm. To attend in-person or virtually please contact pamela.lee@ubc.ca.